

Aliya Mawani

Aliya Mawani is a policy analyst with the Stabilization and Reconstruction Taskforce at Foreign Affairs Canada. She began her foreign service career in 2001, working in the legal bureau, and then spent three exciting years posted to the Canadian Embassy in Syria as a political officer.

Prior to joining Foreign Affairs, Aliya worked with a variety of organizations committed to the protection and promotion of human rights around the world. These include: Human Rights Watch, the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the Federation of International Women Lawyers, and the Human Rights Commission of Pakistan. Her passion for working in the field has taken her from refugee camps in Kenya, to jail cells in Pakistan. Aliya's particular focus has been on documenting the human rights abuses suffered by women and minorities and assisting them in seeking redress. Aliya is a lawyer, and holds a BA in International Relations.